

Hypnosis and Time based Technique Course

by Dr. Ernest Frost

Hypnosis and Time based Technique

In the Shamanic tradition it is believed that every time we experience trauma and it is not fully processed, a part of our soul split off and gets trapped(frozen) in time. These lost pieces of ourselves can be scattered over time, even hundreds and thousands of years; leaving emotional imprints on the 'self' in the now. These imprints can even be physical in the form of eczema or birthmarks.

By learning this sensitive, beautiful and very powerful NLP technique you can learn how to change the past, not only for the yourself in the now but also more than one generation?

The healing can even go back into generational timelines of a family. One person can become the catharsis for healing a whole family even for people who are already dead for a long time.
